

House Sends Economic Controls Bill To President's Desk

Labor Policy Committee Urges Veto

Washington (AP) — President Truman received the new economic control bill yesterday, along with a lot of advice on whether to sign or veto it.

House passage on a 294 to 80 roll call vote completed congressional action on the measure.

Democratic leaders took the attitude Mr. Truman ought to sign it, even though it is short of what he said was needed to combat inflation. Republicans called it a good bill, if administered properly.

The United Labor Policy Committee (ULPC), made up of most big organized labor groups, denounced the measure as "a callous betrayal of the consumers of the nation by the reactionary coalition which rules Congress."

The bill permits some price roll-backs on non-farm goods and opens the way for some increases. The ULPC statement said that was "a disgraceful surrender to those who stand to profit from inflation."

If Mr. Truman vetoes it in the hope that stronger controls can be legislated, the ULPC will support the veto, it said.

The bill extends wage, price, credit, rent and other emergency controls through next June. But the controls were eased in a number of ways and Mr. Truman gave none of the additional authority he asked.

Heads of the control agencies were reported to be advising Mr. Truman to sign it, lest there be a complete lapse of controls. Present controls legislation expires tonight at midnight.

Officials in these agencies, while not talking for direct quotation, told reporters Mr. Truman probably will sign with "comment"—mostly critical—on every section of the bill.

Economic Stabilizer Johnston was out of town, but a spokesman from his office said that he had made his views on the matter known to Mr. Truman in a letter over the weekend.

House Speaker Rayburn told reporters yesterday morning, after a call on the President, that it is "a workable bill, a better one than I thought we would get." Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader in the Senate, said he agreed.

Just before the vote, Rep. Wolcott of Michigan, top Republican on the Banking committee, told the House the legislation gives the President "all the authority needed to prevent prices from getting wholly out of hand if they are judiciously administered."

Yesterday also saw the revival of the question of government-fixed livestock slaughter quotas, something the Office of Price Administration (OPA) has contended are essential to meat price control.

Senators Capehart (R-Ind) and Maybank (D-SC) jointly introduced a bill to permit quotas, although both House and Senate voted against them in the controls bill. Rep. Keating (R-NY) also introduced a bill yesterday to eliminate the ban on quotas.

The action was taken, OPA explained, because the prices of lighter-weight hogs have risen "substantially" since January, while the price of pork loins cut from such hogs has been frozen at the January level.

The regulation fixes a maximum ceiling of 52 cents a pound for loins delivered in Chicago by a seller who slaughters the hog or cuts the loin from a dressed hog he bought.

OPA said the regulation is an "interim" one to relieve the price squeeze on slaughterers pending issuance of dollars and cents ceilings on all pork products.

Gen. Wedemeyer In Retirement

San Francisco (AP) — A brilliant military career which began 32 years ago ended yesterday as Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer stepped into retirement.

There was no formal ceremony as the 53-year-old general rode from San Francisco's Presidio, where he has commanded the Sixth Army. But the entire garrison of 2,400 troops lined the roadway to give Wedemeyer a royal sendoff.

London (AP) — Britain arranged yesterday, under advice of American negotiator W. Averell Harriman, to send a Cabinet mission to Tehran for a new try at settling its bitter oil dispute with Iran.

Wage Board Relaxes Rules On Merit Pay Increases

Washington (AP) — The Wage Stabilization board yesterday rewrote its regulation on merit pay raises to allow employers more leeway in rewarding workers within definite limits.

The new regulation would, in the words of Board Chairman George W. Taylor, "allow maximum flexibility but avoid a flank assault on stabilization."

Employers may operate under the plan with a minimum of supervision and interference from Washington, Taylor told a news conference.

The merit increase regulation applies to workers paid on a time basis—by the hour, week, or even month. That would include white collar workers as well as factory production line employees. Other regulations were issued covering piece rates and incentive pay.

In no case could merit raises or changes in piece rates be used as

House Bill Calls For State Tax Referendum

Choice Between Income Or Sales Levy Only Alternative That Voters Would Have

Harrisburg (AP) — A bill was introduced in the House last night calling for a state-wide referendum at the November election on the question of a flat income tax or a general sales tax for Pennsylvania.

The bill would put on the November election ballot the question:

"Do you favor enactment of one per cent sales tax on all items, except food in preference to a one-half of one per cent tax on incomes?"

The bill was presented by Chairman Wrayburn B. Hall (R-Potter) of the House Ways and Means committee and Rep. Allen M. Gibson (R-Warren) as a means of determining voter sentiment on the General Assembly's tax deadlock that has stalled the 1951 session for months.

Rep. Charles C. Smith, the Republican floor leader, told reporters the bill was not an administration measure but was the idea of the representatives who introduced it.

"The General Assembly," the bill said, "finds that the fiscal needs of the Commonwealth require enactment of a broad base tax, and that a sales tax and a tax on income are the only such taxes feasible and practical."

The referendum proposal was submitted as the Legislature opened the 31st week of the session with two factions of Republican senators holding firm in the stand for and against Gov. John S. Fine's proposed one-half of one per cent income levy.

The House passed the bill by a narrow margin on a second vote last April. But in the Senate eleven Republican senators — enough to defeat it — refused to support the measure.

There since have been weeks of conferences on many possible compromise tax plans without agreement on any of them.

Gibson said the results of the referendum could be turned over to the General Assembly for consideration at a special session of the Legislature called next year to pass needed new taxes.

Hall said that Gibson took the initiative in submitting the bill and that he was going along in order to help solve the present situation.

Immediate reaction to the tax referendum proposal in the Senate followed the positions which the various factions have held throughout the tax deadlock.

Sen. James S. Berger (R-Coudersport) chairman of the Republican caucus, said as far as he was personally concerned "I have no objections."

"The question in my mind," he said, "is whether such a thing could be done legally, that is, whether its effects would be binding on the Legislature."

A source in the State Justice department, who declined quotation by name, said the Legislature probably could approve such a bill with the idea of making the results legally binding or merely along the lines of a recommendation.

But Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, had an emphatic "no" for the question: "Are you in favor of such a move?"

"It sort of reminds me," he told a reporter, "of the judge who asks a man to answer yes or no to the question 'were you drunk when you beat your wife?'"

Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader, and one of the leading opponents of the income tax, declined comment, "except that I stand on my previous position."

Walker has maintained that no new taxes are needed to balance the State's budget for the next two years.

Meanwhile, Speaker Herbert P. Sorel said the House is standing pat on its original stand that we have passed the tax program and are now working on the remainder of the administration's program."

Vote Appropriation

Washington (AP) — An emergency resolution providing stop-gap financing for government agencies until August 31 was passed by Senate and House yesterday and sent to President Truman.

Harrisburg (AP) — The House last night passed a bill barring any member of the General Assembly from holding any other elective office in Pennsylvania. It went to the Senate.

U. N. Awaits Red Reply To Buffer Zone

U. N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, Tuesday (AP) — The crucial conference on a buffer zone in Korea adjourned today at 12:35 p. m.—an hour and 35 minutes after Allied and Red delegates convened. There was no immediate announcement of the outcome.

U. N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, Tuesday (AP) — In a hard-bargaining atmosphere, the Reds were due to reply today to Allied insistence on a northern buffer zone in Korea, with several possibilities open.

The Communist answer was expected at the 15th session of armistice negotiations, which opened at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Monday, EDT), at Kaesong.

At yesterday's 14th meeting the Reds got a fresh invitation from Vice-Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief Allied negotiator, to comment on the U. N. stand on a demilitarized zone "so that the final solution to this item may reflect our mutual views."

The Reds have been holding out for a buffer zone centered on the 38th parallel, which the Allies consider is a political line, not military.

At yesterday's continuous three-hour session the Communist delegation confirmed it was their understanding that fighting would go on during the armistice talks. This was in response to a clarifying statement by Joy.

Communist propaganda broadcasts had accused the Allies of bad faith in continuing to fight while "paying lip service to peace."

It was believed that if the Communists finally agree to the U. N. "stop shooting" line it might be with certain strings attached.

It is known the Reds are eager for a quick cease-fire, even before an armistice is completed.

As far as Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, is concerned the cease-fire would not be effective until all terms of armistice are agreed upon.

India Refuses To Withdraw

New Delhi, India, Tuesday (AP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru refused today to pull back Indian troops from near the Pakistan border and told Pakistan's Premier Liaquat Ali Khan in a blistering 2,000-word message:

"Either we are going to settle the various issues between us by peaceful methods or by war. I want to rule out war and I invite you to do the same."

Nehru chided Liaquat for making a flat at India last week as a symbol of policy.

The burning point of conflict between the two countries now is over possession of the princely state of Kashmir, which lies on both their borders. Kashmir also is a neighbor of Soviet Asia.

Dr. Frank Graham, former U. S. senator and university president from North Carolina, is making strenuous efforts for a settlement as United Nations mediator.

A truce has prevailed since the 1947-48 fighting in Kashmir that followed the creation of the Indian and Moslem Pakistan nations with the withdrawal of British rule.

Mapai Polls Highest Vote

Jerusalem, Tuesday (AP) — Results from the first 98 out of 1,500 polling stations in Israel showed Premier David Ben-Gurion's Mapai (labor) party leading with 45 per cent of all the votes cast in yesterday's general election.

The left-wing Mapam (Socialist labor) party was second among the 17 competing groups with 35 per cent of the vote.

Tom Connally Hits Foreign Aid Spending

Washington (AP) — Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, veteran Democratic leader, thundered out a protest against administration foreign aid plans yesterday, charging that officials are trying to "cover the earth" with money squeezed from American taxpayers.

"The United States cannot subsidize itself, cannot preserve its own economy and its own freedom, if we have got to take care of the whole world," he stormed at William C. Foster, chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA).

Foster replied that he was doing only what Congress ordered in proposing economic aid for Asiatic countries — which Connally said were getting primary attention "when our main problem is Europe."

Connally's protest attracted wide attention in the Capital, especially in view of the fact that as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee he has been the leader in putting through past administration programs of foreign aid. His stand was firm notice that he believes administration officials are now going too far.

He spoke out at a committee meeting called to consider President Truman's proposed $5,500,000,000 foreign aid program.

NLRB Rules On Assessments

Washington (AP) — The National Labor Relations board ruled yesterday that workers need not pay union assessments to hold their jobs under a union shop agreement.

The unanimous decision involved a contract of the CIO United Auto Workers at the Louisville, Ky., works of International Harvester Co., but it stemmed from a famous case involving Hollywood producer Cecil B. DeMille in 1944.

The Taft-Hartly act of 1947 provides that under a union shop agreement members must remain in good standing by keeping "periodic dues and initiation fees" paid up. But the board said "periodic dues" did not include union assessments.

U. S. Airmen Blast Korean Red Capital Of Pyongyang

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Tuesday (AP) — A heavy American air raid on the North Korean capital, seizure of a hill mass from the Reds on the northeast front, and a warning against a Communist ambush marked the sharpening Korean warfare yesterday.

The North Koreans said today that their Pyongyang capital building was shattered by the air raid in a rainstorm.

Fifth Air Force headquarters reported that it was the Red military administration building which was destroyed. (It is possible that the same building served in both capacities.)

The raid was described by the Air Force as one of the most determined of the war, although not the largest. The number of planes was not disclosed, but 405 sorties (individual flights) were listed.

Two Marine Corsairs were listed as lost after colliding in a cloud.

The Air Force reported loss of a third plane, an F-31 Mustang, that exploded in the air when hit by small arms fire "just north of the battle lines."

The Pyongyang raid claimed 12 planes were shot down.

New Atomic Tests Due

Washington (AP) — New tests of America's atomic bomb are coming up, Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy commission said yesterday.

But he disclosed knowledge of any plans for joint British-United States tests of a British-made atomic bomb. Such tests "would involve a lot of problems," he added.

At a news conference, Dean said "we are not quite ready" to announce sites and dates for further United States atomic tests. There has been talk of tests in the Aleutian Islands off Alaska, near Russian Siberia.

Dean wouldn't even say whether the new U. S. tests will be at established proving grounds such as in Nevada or the Pacific island of Eniwetok, or some new location.

Army To Draft 430,000 More Men In Year

Washington (AP) — Military chiefs have warned Congress the danger of all-out war is increasing, and the Army alone plans to call up 430,000 men—possibly more—within the next 12 months.

Also, they plan to add billions more to the skyrocketing $60,879,000,000 military budget already proposed to Congress for this year. Just how many billions they don't know yet.

The 430,000 new men will be needed simply to replace others, mostly reservists, who will be released from active duty during 1952 despite the mounting defense buildup.

All this was disclosed in testimony by Defense Secretary Marshall, Army Secretary Pace and others to a House military appropriations subcommittee.

Highlights in the 2,000 pages of testimony:

One—Marshall was asked, in view of the huge budget, whether the likelihood of global war still is being considered.

"From the viewpoint of the enemy's buildup, it is increasing," he replied. His elaboration on this point was censored.

Two—Army Secretary Pace said the $60-billion-dollar budget doesn't include anything for replacements in Korea or troops in Japan or Germany, because these amounts can't be fixed yet.

If war continues in Korea, another $7,000,000,000 will be needed for that, he said. And even if peace comes, the Army will need several billions more. The Navy and the Air Force also presumably will seek extra billions—especially the Air Force, with talk of jumping from 95 groups to 150.

Also, the budget doesn't include $8,500,000,000 proposed for foreign aid and $4,500,000,000 for military construction in the United States and overseas.

Three — The 430,000 new men will come from the National Guard, draft or reserves. Actually about 630,000 will be eligible to have military service during 1952, because their enlistments or active duty tours expire, but about 200,000 of these are expected to choose to remain in service.

Four—The new Patton medium-gun tank has scored an 18 to 1 margin of knockouts over the Russian T-34 in direct tank versus tank action in Korea. The largest single item in the Army budget is $4,200,000,000 for tanks.

Five — The Korean war has turned the American soldier into a cool, skilled "professional killer" — a much better soldier than the average GI of World War Two. This view came from Brig. Gen. John H. Michaels, a veteran of fighting in both the conflicts.

Six — The Army budget includes $400,000,000 to speed actual production of the first guided missiles for its armament chest.

Seven — Broad military strategy is to take a "calculated risk" of concentrating now on weapons and supplies rather than on the number of men in uniform.

Eight — By using lighter weight materials the Army hopes to reduce the packload of the foot soldiers by 65 per cent.

Nine — Guarded references to other new weapons disclosed an anti-tank mine more difficult for the enemy to locate; a new locator to search out enemy mortars and place fire on them; a "recovery tank" especially designed to go out on the battlefield and bring back a disabled tank; and a new amphibious cargo carrier which "floats and swims."

Loyalty Board Clears Davies

Washington (AP) — The State department yesterday cleared John Paton Davies Jr., of loyalty and security charges and restored him to Secretary Acheson's top-ranking policy planning staff.

An announcement said Davies, suspended June 27 pending an investigation by the department's Loyalty Security board, was reinstated immediately "with the full confidence of the department."

Davies, 43, a career diplomat for 20 years with long service in China, will leave the planning staff soon to join the office of John J. McCloy, United States high commissioner in Germany. The department said the change is part of its regular rotation policy.

Field's Sentence Now Nine Months

New York (AP) — Millionaire leftist Frederick Vanderbilt Field's 90-day contempt of court sentence was upped to nine months yesterday as a second prison term was added.

Field was serving 90 days for refusing to tell a Federal court where the Civil Rights congress gets its money to bail Communists out of jail.

He drew a new six months sentence for denying the same information to a Federal grand jury. Field must serve it after he finishes the first sentence.

Soldier Calls From Austria To Tell Mother Of Transfer

Mrs. Eleanor Gearhart, wife of Samuel Gearhart, 819 Ann St., Stroudsburg, answered a routine telephone ring at her home at 2 p. m. yesterday and shortly thereafter was more than mildly flabbergasted to hear her son Bob talking to her from Austria.

Bob, a private first class with the Engineers Corps of the Army, has been in Austria for some time. He was in good health and happy over the fact he had received orders for transfer to a base in Italy.

About a month ago Mrs. Gearhart went through a similar experience, but that time it was a call from their son, Cpl. Fred Gearhart, who was calling from his Marine base in the Canal Zone.

Bob has been in Austria only about six weeks. He enlisted in service in June, 1950. His brother has been a member of the United States Marine Corps for two years.

Young Baronet Accuses Wife, Gains Freedom

London (AP) — A British court gave freedom yesterday to a young baronet who charged his actress-wife posed nude for snapshots on their honeymoon but balked at his husband's advances.

Sir Francis Beaumont, 27, won a decree nullifying his tie to blonde Barbara Singleton Beaumont, 23, because of her "willful refusal" to complete the marriage.

Beaumont told the Court of Appeal the nude photo incident happened on the Isle of Capri in June 1949. He said Barbara undressed and posed for him on the balcony of their hotel but then refused the nuptial bed.

They split up eight days later, Beaumont claimed, and she began living with Dr. Edward Sudgen, 48, a London nerve specialist. The court cleared her of this charge.

Barbara had a baby—which died two hours later—in March 1950 and contends Sir Francis was the father. He said this was impossible.

Now Unfreeze Them

President Truman has gone and done it. He has frozen in service all men whose enlistments were due to expire before next July 1.

The President has the authority to extend also the enlistments of men due for discharge between July 1, 1952, and July 1, 1953. But he hasn't invoked that power as yet.

We hope there will be no further "freezing" of men in uniform. And we hope the President will take immediate steps to thaw out the freeze he already has imposed on thousands of GIs who have spent years in the service of their country.

There is no doubt that in this dog-eat-dog world of ours we need trained manpower to protect the nation against the Communist peril.

But the threat of Communism isn't something that will pass in a day or a month. We are in for years of turmoil, because the Reds thrive only on unrest.

Certainly the President doesn't propose to keep our trained men on active duty for, say, 10 years or more to thwart a possible attack.

What we need is a long-range military program to meet the long-range danger to democracy.

To set up such a program we must train new men to take over from the old job of guarding freedom's bastion. We cannot forever depend on the men who won victory in World War Two.

That would not only be disastrous but unfair. For the future belongs even more to the young men who never have served their country than it does to their elders, who already have served it so faithfully for so long.

The only way our Government can spread the responsibilities of freedom more equitably is to step up the draft and lay off the Reserves and the National Guardsmen.

We had to summon the Reserves and the Guardsmen when the Korean war broke out. There was a fire right on our front doorstep and we needed experienced firemen to help put it out. To their everlasting credit, those men helped stem the fire. The flames have been contained in Korea.

But it is time for this Government, barring a sudden new emergency, to start thinking seriously about its own responsibility to these men and their families and their communities.

It just doesn't make sense to hold down draft calls when we know we have to train more men to replace those who were called up from the Reserves and the National Guard.

The faster we call up draftees, the sooner we can let the Reserves and the Guardsmen out. And the sooner we can stop freezing volunteers who offered to give a certain period of their lives to their country's military service.

These enlistees volunteered in good faith to perform their duties for two or three of four or even six years. The Government is not acting in good faith when it demands they stay in for an extra year while men who never have been in uniform—even for one day—continue to enjoy civilian life.

End Indecision

State Health Secretary Teague cannot be blamed for suggesting again to the Pennsylvania Legislature that it end its indecision and enact the proposed local health administration measures that have been before it for some months.

State and national public health agencies have long advocated the program outlined in these bills. The program was one of the glowing promises in the Republican political campaign of 1950. Why they shouldn't have been enacted long ago is difficult to understand.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

At the entrance of the CBS studio, Jack Benny was stopped by a moocher who claimed to be an old vaudeville pal and put the bee on Jack for a two-dollar loan. "I'll pay you back if it's the last thing I do," promised the poor fellow as he pocketed the two greenbacks.

Benny forgot all about the incident until about eight months later, to his surprise, he received a letter from the man, postmarked Denver. "I've struck it rich in Colorado, Jack," he boasted. "Everything broke right at the same time. Happy days are here again. I've got a great job and a society girl is going to marry me. Thanks for everything." The letter had a postscript: "I am enclosing one dollar on account of my debt. I'll send the other just as soon as I can spare it!"

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Trial By Press—Senator C. Hunt has written an article against Congressional immunity which sums itself up into an objection to what he calls "Trial by Press," and which can only be translated into the right of the people to form their own judgments on data to which they have access through newspapers and the radio.

The Senator makes the point: "Under the aegis of the immunity privilege, unscrupulous congressmen can impute unworthy or unpatriotic motives to any department of government or any member of an administration, by innuendo or as an outright accusation, without offering any evidence in support of such charges."

The two worst offenders of this nature in recent times were the Nye and the La Follette Committees, both of which were manned in their investigative and legal staffs by men, many of whom have now been proved to have been Communists.

On the other hand, the Dies Committee, opposed by the Administration, unsupported by the party of which Dies is a member, grubbing at pieces of evidence which it was difficult to put together, laid the foundation for the uncovering of a vast and ugly conspiracy to take over the Government of the United States by infiltration.

Senator Hunt aims his article, of course, at Senator Joe McCarthy. He makes this point: "... An apparent error of judgment on the part of a public figure may be attributed to motives of treason."

He does not say to whom he refers. We must assume therefore that Senator Hunt had in mind a number of State Department officials and experts. Dr. Philip Jessup, Owen Lattimore, John S. Service and others whose names Senator McCarthy gave to the Tyding Committee. Senator Hunt should have waited until after the McCarthy Committee had completed its investigations, which are going to the heart of the matter. Its counsel has no ambitions of pleasing those in authority and has done a job of research magnificently. Only after this evidence has been completely aired is it possible to say whether Senator McCarthy was a wild man, hurling charges about indiscriminately, or whether he is a careful exposé of obscure and hidden facts.

Senator Hunt wants the activities of congressional committees curtailed because, he says: "... Not only is the ordinary citizen usually denied the right to defend himself against his more privileged accuser, but he is in fact placed in double jeopardy. He is again tried in a court of law: A manifest violation of the due-process clause of our Constitution."

This process was exemplified in the Alger Hiss case. Hiss rose to high rank in our government. As early as 1939, Hiss was reported to the State Department as having Communist affiliations. I am not only referring to the conversations involving Whitaker Chambers, Isaac Don Levine and Adolf A. Berle, Jr., but rather to the investigations of Dr. J. B. Matthews of the Dies Committee into the Harold Ware Communist cell. Yet, after 1939, Alger Hiss rose to the second level of State Department authority, was President Roosevelt's adviser at Yalta, was in charge of the San Francisco Conference to write the Charter of the United Nations and was elected president of the Carnegie

Foundation.

Red Cross Requests County To Raise $700 For Flood Relief

Quota Fixed In National Fund Drive

People of Monroe county are being given an opportunity to contribute to the relief of the victims in one of the most devastating floods in history for the Oklahoma, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas flood areas through the Monroe County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

At a special executive meeting called yesterday afternoon, an urgent appeal was read from the American Red Cross, setting this county's proportionate share of the $5,000,000 disaster appeal announced earlier by President Truman.

Monroe county has been asked to raise a minimum of $700 for the relief of human needs in the flood area. The appeal pointed out that the Federal aid to the stricken area is used for general, not individual help.

It is the Red Cross' task to help in the emergency housing and feeding of the more than 165,300 persons affected by the flood and to help in their rehabilitation.

George Robinson, chapter chairman, appointed William Palmer as chairman of the committee which also includes LeRoy Mike's, Charles R. Bensinger and Mrs. Horace Westbrook to decide on how Monroe county's quota is to be made.

It was decided to take the appeal directly to the people of Monroe county through the newspaper and radio. The people of this community have always answered the call in time of national emergency. It was pointed out, and confidence was expressed that in this first special disaster relief fund campaign since 1938, the National Red Cross could again count on this county to more than fill its quotas.

Money or checks should be sent to Monroe County Red Cross Flood Relief at the Red Cross headquarters, Court House Square.

TRANSPORT HANGS AT WEIRD ANGLE—Balanced precariously on the edge of steel bridge over Brodheads Creek in Minisink Hills is the transport operated by Lawrence E. Perry, McAdoo truck driver, who steered the big vehicle against bridge siding after air brakes gave out on a Route 612 incline near the bridge. Damages in crash will approximate $8,500, not including loss of a load of coal which was spilled from the trailer into Brodheads creek. (Daily Record photo)

Big Coal Truck Rips Out 60 Feet Of Guard Rail, Comes To Rest Dangling Over Bridge

Minisink Hills—Driver of a coal transport was injured at 2:15 a. m. yesterday when the tractor-trailer unit went out of control, narrowly missed the sides of the abandoned railway underpass on Route 612, then ripped out 60 feet of steel guard railing on the west side of the bridge over Brodheads Creek at the Empire Box Co. site. Damage was placed at $8,500.

When the big vehicle came to a stop, the auto tractor was impaled on a section of the bridge railing, and the open top trailer was dangling off the side of the bridge. A full load of coal spilled into the creek from the twisted trailer.

State police of the Stroudsburg substation rushed Lawrence E. Perry, of McAdoo, the truck driver, to Monroe County General hospital where it was found that the 26-year-old trucker suffered possible concussion and contusions of the right thigh.

His condition last night was listed as "good."

Air brakes on the loaded transport gave way as the big vehicle approached the old trestle underpass on the downgrade.

Perry told Pfc. Emil J. Weber, investigating officer, that the brakes had functioned properly as he rolled down the Franklin Hill road from E. Sixth St., in East Stroudsburg, to the stop street intersection of legislative route 45.048 and Route 166.

At that time, an indicator on the tractor dash showed brake compression of 60 pounds, but a minute later on the turn just above the trestle abutments—Perry found the brake pedal went all the way to the floorboards and registered only 20 pounds.

Weight of the vehicle and the load of coal (reported to have been in excess of 14 tons) shot the tractor-trailer through the abutments and down to the bridge over the Brodheads.

As the lunging vehicle reached the edge of the bridge, Perry noticed Norman Metzgar, of 11 E. Brown St., East Stroudsburg, approaching the opposite end of the bridge in an automobile.

Fearing a collision with the car or a crash on the sharp turn off the bridge, Perry said he pulled far to the right and attempted to slow down the runaway by scraping it against the guard rail.

The heavy auto tractor snapped off the steel fencing like toothpicks for 60 feet before the loaded vehicle had slowed sufficiently to permit the tractor to become snagged on the railing at the south end of the bridge.

Then the load spilled into the water from the damaged trailer.

Heavy wrecking equipment owned by Stanley Heller, Stroud township, and B. Weber, East Stroudsburg, was moved to the bridge to clear the debris, but the wrecking crews found that they would not be able to work over the overhanging tractor-trailer until daylight.

Police then summoned a crew from the Highway department shed in East Stroudsburg, and they barricaded the road to all traffic. At daylight, the battered trailer was hoisted back onto the bridge and the tractor was moved from its precarious position on the end of the guard rail.

Wreckers on the job noted that even a slight wrong shift in weight might have toppled both tractor and trailer into the creek. For that reason, it was decided to wait until daylight before attaching the

Auto Club Board Discusses Complaints Of Motorists

Complaints concerning motor conditions on the highways occupied the greater part of the time of the Board of Governors of the Monroe County Automobile club at the Penn-Stroud hotel last night.

There was one from a resident of Pawtucket, R. I., who had been a guest at a Mount Pocono resort hotel in which he stated that while passing through a nearby community he halted his car behind that of an officer. As he passed around the car ahead, the writer said he was directed to a curb and accused of passing through a stop sign.

The Rhode Island man said the location of the policeman's machine prevented seeing the sign, but he was fined. It was said in the letter similar complaints had been heard from other persons. The letter was referred to the Northampton Motor club for action.

There were also complaints of truck drivers moving two abreast on Route 611 in the mountain area thus interfering with operation of cars. These and other complaints will be referred to proper authorities.

In order to get a better idea of conditions the governors decided to call a special meeting for Monday night, Aug. 6, at 8 at the Penn-Stroud hotel when operators of the AAA service garages in the county will be invited to attend in an effort to clear up some of the problems which face the club.

There were 86 calls for emergency road service during the past month costing $334. Of the number, 75 were foreign calls and 11 local, the report showed.

A total of 27 new members were elected as follows:

Stroudsburg — Samuel Bass, Alfred H. Astheimer, Ralph W. Bisbing, William G. Coe, Ruth N. Berman, Lawrence A. Zaccaro, Fred W. and Dorothy L. Miller, heavy equipment to the damaged transport.

Once the transport was pulled off the bridge, preliminary estimates indicated that the vehicle was a total loss. Its value was reported as $7,500.

Police said damage to the bridge pushed the damage toll up another $1,600, and the figure will go higher when the loss of cargo is computed.

The coal was still in the creek late yesterday. Police said the transport and its contents were the property of Louis Traub, of Harleigh, near Hazleton.

Four Injured As Car Fails To Make Turn

Appenzell — Four persons were injured and removed to General hospital at 7:30 p. m. yesterday when the car in which they were riding failed to negotiate a left curve on the Appenzell-McMehals road.

State police from Mount Pocono sub-station said the auto first went off the right side of the highway and struck a culvert; returned to the road and went off the left side where it rammed a sharp embankment and rolled over after a wide spin.

Police said the 1950 sedan is a total loss with damages estimated at $1,900.

The injured are:
John Pappas, 19, the operator, 3838 Chestnut St., Philadelphia; his mother, Mrs. Mary Pappas, 50, same address; Thales Pappas, 15, same address, and Alice Kirifidis, 15, 6 Morton Ave., Morton, Pa.

John Pappas was admitted to the hospital and treated for very severe scalp lacerations. His condition is not believed to be serious, however.

Mary Pappas was treated for numerous less severe lacerations and admitted for observation. Alice Kirifidis was also admitted for observation, but Thales Pappas was treated for minor cuts and discharged.

Girl Known To East Borough Police Held In Slaying Of 54-Year-Old Brooklyn Man

An 18-year-old girl, who over a year ago was a headache for East Stroudsburg police, hit the headlines in New York papers yesterday when she was arraigned in Brooklyn on a charge of stabbing a 54-year-old companion to death.

The young woman, Margaret Gualberti, was pictured smiling in a police van after arraignment before a Brooklyn magistrate on the charge murdering Shake Abbas, her suitor. She was held without bail.

East Borough police recalled that a year ago, the Gualberti girl was apprehended here as an incorrigible juvenile. At that time, she was staying with her mother in the Lenox Ave. section.

Police and Monroe county probation officers later transferred the girl to the custody of New York state authorities, who had an earlier juvenile record on her. Chief of Police Arthur Swink and probation officers J. Clarence Shafer and Miss Elizabeth G. Martin were acquainted with the girl's case here.

Applications received so far for the contest are: Miss Janice LaBar, 16-year-old Bangor High school student, who lives in Bangor, and Miss Betty Ackerman, recent graduate of Bangor High school, class of 1951, who lives in Mount Bethel.

Miss Elizabeth Polo, of East Bangor, winner of the Miss Slate Belt of 1950 contest, will preside at the coronation ceremonies Saturday afternoon.

The annual carnival will be held Friday night, Saturday afternoon, and Saturday night. Community organizations will supervise all the concessions at the carnival. Proceeds will go toward the park improvement fund.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Losing the Battle of the Clams hurt less physically than mentally, though strained ligaments, cut fingers and bruised knuckles were bad enough, heaven's knows.

And it all started with such good intentions, too. Casual summer meals are all right, but there comes a time when your conscience tells you they're much too casual. Hot dogs and potato salad sandwiched in between swimming and baseball can become too much of a habit.

No—you decide to have a really formal dinner for a change—all the courses and flowers on the table and everything. And shopping in all that heat, those tremendous big clams nesting in their cool beds of shaved ice seemed the perfect solution to a first course.

All right, dinner's in the oven, the table is set, the children have been dragged home, protesting that they really weren't hungry and you're all ready. Except for the clams. In the restaurants they come all on the half shell, decked with watercress and lemon and it's never occurred to you to wonder how they got that way.

Split them open you presume, so you tackle the first one which promptly closes up on the knife so that you can't get it out without breaking the blade. Well, maybe a screw-driver—nope, that's too thick. So you call in your husband, but he's never shucked clams either.

The ensuing discussion brings the children in to stand around and watch the struggle.

"Are they still alive?" they inquire in horror. "Doesn't it hurt them?" I don't think I want any, anyway. Not if they're still alive.

However by that time, you're desperate so you bang away with the handle of the screw-driver, succeed in breaking the shell which you have to pull away by main force from the clam which is hanging on to the pieces for dear life.

By that time you've lost your appetite for clams, too, but pride forbids admitting it so you have to sit there and choke them down while the rest of the family looks on in horror as if you were a cannibal or something. Which is exactly the way you feel, too, and which quite spoils the rest of the dinner.

Next time, anybody around this house wants a formal dinner, we'll go out for it where somebody who knows how can shuck the clams behind the scenes. At home the days we don't have hot dogs, it'll be hamburgers.

Bobby Westbrook, Social Editor—Phone 2160-R

Consultant Reviews Plan For Zoning

Pocono Summit—Clifton Rodgers, Rochester, Pa. planning consultant, last night brought both Coolbaugh township supervisors and the Township Zoning commission up to date on a master municipal plan for the township.

Attorney George T. Robinson, Stroudsburg, solicitor for supervisors and the commission, attended the session and discussed plans for ordinances which will be required to properly zone the township and more particularly the immediate Tobyhanna community.

Mr. Rodgers was retained by the township supervisors and delegated, with his staff, to prepare a master municipal plan to meet problems connected with the anticipated growth of Tobyhanna Village and Coolbaugh township as a result of the 5,000-employee, $30,000,000 U. S. Army Signal Corps depot on a portion of the old military reservation.

The master plan study in its preliminary overall form was presented to supervisors and the zoning commission last night by Mr. Rodgers. They reviewed the complete document, including maps and charts.

This report is to be developed for distribution to interested citizens, completed with maps and charts supplementing the engineering and planning findings of Mr. Rodgers and his staff which includes expert planners, designers, delineators, draftsmen, consulting engineers, architects and assistant architects.

Mr. Rodgers will spend the next several days in the Tobyhanna and Coolbaugh township section gathering additional material for the report.

Easton Man Treated For Lacerations

Russell Cope, 27, of Easton, was treated for lacerations about the face at Monroe County General hospital early yesterday, following an automobile accident which occurred on the Delaware river road north of Columbia, N. J., near Camp Weygadt at 4:20 a. m.

Cope was injured when a car in which he was riding ran off the west shoulder of the road near the Boy Scout camp in Pahaquarry township while proceeding southward toward Columbia.

Trooper Walter Schuler, who investigated for Blainstown State police, said John H. Shannon, 25, of Easton, lost control of the 1938 sedan when it hit the shoulder.

The car then smashed into a tree at the edge of the undergrowth, throwing both Cope and Shannon, the owner-operator, against the windshield.

Shannon was bruised and shaken, but he did not require hospital attention. Passing motorists took the injured Cope to the hospital in East Stroudsburg.

Entire front end of the sedan was damaged in the crash against the tree.

Trooper Schuler issued a careless driving charge against Shannon, and he will appear before District Judge George Shipman at Belvidere on Thursday, August 15.

Average Life Per Gallon	2 Years	10 Years
Cost Per Year Per Gallon	37½ Cents	19½ Cents

The price of ordinary asphalt or tar roof coatings is about 75 cents per gallon, a little more or less. If you're getting 2 years service to the gallon — and that's average — you're spending $3.75 per gallon for every 10 years of service (Not counting labor).

CARBOZITE IS GUARANTEED FOR 10 YEARS—IN WRITING!

CARBOZITE the mineral rubber coating costs $1.95 per gallon and CARBOZITE is guaranteed for 10 years of service. So with CARBOZITE the gallon is only 39 cents for the same length of service as ordinary asphalt roof coatings. That's a saving of $9.00 for every 5 gallons every 10 years.

Trautman Lifts Walker's Long Suspension

Washington, (AP)—Dixie Walker had his 90-day suspension from baseball lifted yesterday, and was told he could return immediately as manager of the Atlanta Crackers in the Southern Association.

In a special ruling, George M. Trautman, boss of the Minor Leagues, not only lifted the suspension that had been slapped on Walker. He also said that Walker could get his $100 fine back.

Trautman also ruled on the game that started all the ruckus. It had been forfeited to Mobile. But Trautman ordered it played out from the point where the argument started, with Mobile leading, 3-2, and one out in the eighth inning.

Thus in an orderly hotel room near the Nation's Capitol, in order, well reasoned prose, ended a baseball storm that erupted violently after a close play at home plate in Mobile on June 29.

Interest

This storm was so intense, Walker testified at a hearing here Saturday, that (A) Umpire Paul Roy was described to his face in a vast number of eloquent phrases, none of them complimentary.

(B) Atlanta pitcher Joe Reardon became so excited he swallowed his chewing tobacco and became deathly ill, and

(C) Catcher Roy Jarvis was so overwhelmed that he later swooned dead away on the clubhouse floor.

More important to Walker, one time pride of the Brooklyn Dodgers; he was suspended and fined by President Charles Hurlb of the Southern Association.

Walker promptly appealed. Oddly, although Trautman supported Walker in his plea that he was suspended unjustly, he sided with the umpire in the play that raised the storm.

Roy ruled that a Mobile runner was entitled to score because the Atlanta catcher had obstructed the play.

Trautman sided with the umpire yesterday. It was clearly a case of judgment on the part of the umpire, and—

"I hold that the run scored on the disputed play counts."

Trautman noted that there was no way for Walker to make up the 90 days he already has lost. But he said this didn't disturb him too much since Walker had prolonged the fuss.

His view: Walker "deserved some suspension."

Split Decision Goes To Sala

Pittsburgh, (AP)—Lee Sala won a split decision last night over Jackie Burke in a 10 round middleweight fight which may bring about a match between the wily Sala and Rocky Graziano.

Sala, 158 pounds from Donora, Pa., had his troubles with Burke, 163 pounds, of Brownsville, only a few miles from Donora. The two judges disagreed on the winner and the deciding ballot was cast by referee Buck McTiernan.

Minoso Continues To Pace American League At Plate

Chicago, (AP)—The Chicago White Sox keep dropping in the pennant race, but their hit-and-run star, Orestes Minoso, still is the man to catch in the American League batting chase.

Through Sunday's games, Minoso owned a .346 mark, climbing two percentage points during the week, for a six-point margin over Washington's persistent Gil Coan. Coan picked up nine points last week for a 340 listing, wrestling second place from injury-battered Ferris Fain, of Philadelphia. Fain is third with .334.

Minoso clubbed nine hits in 24 trips despite the continued Pale Hose slump last week. Coan slammed ten safe blows in 22 ABs.

Fourth Place

Fourth spot was held by Detroit's George Kell with .332. He was followed by Ted Williams of Boston, .327; Bobby Avila, Cleveland, .323; Bob Dillinger, Chicago, .317; Nellie Fox, Chicago, .316; Don DiMaggio, Boston, .311; and Gil McDougald, New York, .308.

All specialized department leaders stayed ahead during the week. Philadelphia's Gus Zernial was tops in homers with an unchanged 23, and Williams led in RBIs with 90, adding nine. Minoso still paced two departments—runs with 80 and triples with 13.

Other leaders were Irv Noren, Washington, 30 doubles; Dom DiMaggio, 128 hits, and Chicago's Jim Busby, 20 stolen bases.

Bob Feller's 15-4 record gave the Cleveland star the top pitching spot, although New York's Tom Morgan had the best percentage, .857, on a 6-1 record. Vic Raschi of New York, captured undisputed lead in strikeouts at 108, while Boston's Maurice McDermott dropped from a first-place tie last week to second with 102.

R. C. Cramer Nine Wallops National, 7-1

R. C. Cramer nudged East Stroudsburg National Bank, 7-1, last night in an East Stroudsburg Little League contest as Kloess went the distance for the Lumbermen.

In a mound duel with Ray, of the Banker pitching staff, Kloess held the opposition to three safe hits, while striking out nine and issuing three bases on balls.

Ray fanned 10 for the losers and walked five, while permitting six hits by the victors.

The winning aggregation scored in four frames, including seven markers in the first and eight in the sixth.

Seven

For a few moments it appeared as if the Eagles might stay in the thick of the battle, as they too scored, seven times in the first. However, such was not the case.

Cubs Triumph Over Giants

Chicago, (AP)—Paced by Roy Smalley, who drove in five runs with a homer and a double, the Chicago Cubs edged the New York Giants 7 to 6 yesterday.

Venerable "Dutch" Leonard, third Cubs pitcher, received credit for the triumph, which snapped a four-game winning streak for the Giants. It was Leonard's tenth victory against three losses.

Losers

George Spencer absorbed the loss, his fourth compared with six wins, after relieving Starter Dave Keefe in the fourth. Smalley got the Cubs under way toward their third consecutive win by following a walk to Randy Jackson and a single by Chuck Connors with a towering three-run blast over the left field wall for his fourth circuit clout.

Second Clash Slated For Diamond Foes

Pocono A.C. will be seeking tonight when a powerful Nazareth club, representing the Tri-County league, stacks up against the Blue Mountain league team from Monroe county, at Gordon Giffels field. The battle is scheduled to open at 8:30 and will be played under the lights.

An earlier meeting of the two teams, at Nazareth, found tonight's visiting aggregation coming up with a 12-0 victory. Two errors enabled the Nazareth club to score five times in the first inning of the initial meeting, but the A.C. forces are hopeful of changing the tune this time.

No Announcement

Manager John Schoonover didn't announce his starting pitcher last night, but it is believed that the choice lies between Aiden "Red" Fetherman or Chet Lucki, youthful and veteran right handers respectively.

The Schoonovermen will also be at home tomorrow night, when the strong Roseto A.A. contingent makes its first appearance under the lights at Giffels field.

Kulp Foundry, Printers Win

Kulp's Foundry and Union Printers picked up Monroe County Softball league victories last night at East Stroudsburg Playground and East Stroudsburg Junior High school respectively.

The Printers were too much for IAM, winning by a 6-4 count, with Bill Weber doing the pitching for the winning aggregation, while at the same time Bob Held hurled Kulp's crew to an 8-6 verdict over Tucker's.

Schedule

Tonight's schedule calls for Worthington Mower to meet Paterson-Kelley at the East Stroudsburg Junior High, while the Eagles clash with Line Material at East Stroudsburg Playground. Both games begin at 6:15.

Musial Opens Big Lead In Hitting Race

New York, (AP)—Stan Musial of St. Louis has opened up a 17-point lead in the National League batting race with a .375 average, including Sunday's games.

Another heavy week of slugging at Sportsman's Park produced nine hits, including three home runs, in 21 trips for Stan—a .438 pace.

While Musial boosted his average four points, Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn slipped five to .358. Injured in a night game Friday, Jackie was available only for pinch-hitting duty over the weekend.

Richie Ashburn of the Phillies held third at .351 with Johnny Wyrostek of Cincinnati fourth at .335. Brooklyn's Roy Campanella had a good week, taking over fifth place with a three-point jump to .333 while Bob Elliott of Boston dropped to sixth, .327.

Others

Others in the top ten were Alvin Dark of New York, .321; Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh, .318; "Pee-Wee" Reese of Brooklyn, .315, and Carl Furillo of Brooklyn, .312.

There were few changes in the individual departments with Gil Hodges of Brooklyn still out front in runs scored, 86 and home runs, 30. He hit two homers at Chicago to keep up the pace, Monte Irvin of New York edged into 8th and the tie with Kiner with 70 runs batted in, displacing "Duke" Snider of Brooklyn who tied with Kiner last week at 66.

Firemen To Hold Carnival

Tobyhanna — The Coolbaugh Township Fire Co. will hold its annual firemen's carnival on the grounds between the Tobyhanna Inn and the Mountain house on August 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The women of the Auxiliary will take charge of the refreshments. Proceeds will go toward the building and equipment fund. Property was recently donated to the fire company by N. S. Brittain of Lansdowne, Pa., in memory of his father, a pioneer resident of the Tobyhanna region.

Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia have tidewater frontage but no seacoasts.

Children Find Owner Who Left Nearly $1,400 In Old Icebox

Allentown (AP) — Mrs. John Kropf, 65-year-old Allentown housewife, has a new, modern electric refrigerator today. And because of the new ice box—and the honesty of Arthur Ross, 12, and Joyce Kline, 10—she is some $13,000 richer.

When the new refrigerator arrived Mrs. Kropf gave the old one to a junkman. While it was on his truck Arthur and Joyce climbed aboard to play.

They accidentally kicked open the freezing compartment and found a green steel box wrapped in newspaper. Inside the box was $13,825 in bills, some mouldy and dirty.

Arthur's father took the box to Mrs. Kropf. She rewarded the children and Mr. Ross with $513. Mrs. Kropf's only explanation for the hidden money was that her 82-year-old husband, a retired farmer, had saved it in the old ice box and forgotten about it.
